

The background features several vintage posters for magicians. At the top, a poster for 'The World Famous Self-HOUD' is visible, with the subtitle 'The Supreme Ruler'. Below it, another poster for 'ALEXANDER' is partially seen. On the left, a poster for 'THURSTON THE GREAT MAGICIAN' shows a man in a suit and a woman. On the right, a large poster features a woman's face and the text 'KNOWS SIES TELLS'. In the center, a poster for 'Sees the Life from the Cradle' shows a circular scene with figures. At the bottom, a poster for 'ROPER' is visible, with the text 'World's Most Famous Illusion First Time-out-of-'.

"How did this all start?"

"We've been asked so many times what gave us the idea for Illusions Magic Bar and we have always resisted a full explanation! This is mainly because the bar was the result of many things, not one idea alone... Sylvie wanted a bar with a unique appeal, grabbing your eye and interest everywhere you look. Mark wanted a bar where magicians entertained and served you drinks. Sylvie wanted a pure entertainment venue with live music. Mark wanted a place where he could be king!

As we could never agree on anything we decided to agree to disagree... To make Mark happy we created a magic bar. To make Sylvie happy, we bought a piano. As Mark had limited tricks and Sylvie limited piano tunes, we had to hire some performers. Luckily enough Bristol was the place to be!

However, we were not satisfied... We were missing something. We worked days and nights, realising that the only thing Illusions needed was a bit of... magic! So we hired the best and the nicest people we could find in Bristol and the job was done! Mark had his magic bar full of magicians and Sylvie had a place where she could play her cheesy tunes... Therefore, Illusions Magic Bar was born in Bristol, September 2007:

A genius invention created by two ambitious people. This was a brand new concept, helping to promote magic, music and performing arts, in the heart of Bristol.

Illusions Magic Bar is now 3 years old and we are extremely proud to have succeeded where so many others have failed. Our achievements, so far, include winning Best Entertainment Pub, 2009 in Great Britain, an accolade that we are especially chuffed with! We will always be the first magic bar in England (if not Europe!) where the magic is accessible to all. Since January 2010 Illusions Magic Bar is now a brand with a baby sister in Manchester. We employ about 40 magicians, 6 musicians, 15 bar tenders and door staff. We would like to thank all the people who believed in our vision... and the people who didn't, as they gave us the stamina to carry on and succeed! We'd like to thank all the brilliant bar staff, magicians, musicians and door staff who we have met along the way, who have stayed with us and helped us to make the dream come true. Most importantly we want to thank all our loyal customers who have made Illusions Magic Bar the success that it is today".

*Let's now enjoy the show...

CHUNG LING SOO (1861-1918). He is famous for dying when his bullet catch trick went wrong. During his early career, William Ellsworth Robinson called himself Robinson, the Man of Mystery. To increase his allure with a touch of exoticism, he changed his name to Chung Ling Soo and took his show to Europe. He took the name as a variation of a real Chinese stage magician - Ching Ling Foo - and performed many of the tricks that Foo had made famous. Chung Ling Soo maintained his role as a Chinese man scrupulously. He never spoke onstage and always used an interpreter when he spoke to journalists. Only his friends and other stage magicians knew the truth.

Derren Victor Brown (born 27 February 1971) is a British illusionist, mentalist, painter, writer, and sceptic. He is known for his appearances in television specials, stage productions, and British television series such as Trick of the Mind and Trick or Treat. Since the first broadcast of his show Derren Brown: Mind Control in 2000, Brown has become increasingly well known for his "mind-reading" act.

Though his performances of mind-reading and other feats of mentalism may appear to be the result of psychic or paranormal practices, he claims no such abilities. Brown states at the beginning of his Trick of the Mind programmes that he achieves his results using a combination of "magic, suggestion, psychology, misdirection and showmanship".

Magic wand cocktails contain over 10 shots in the small and 20 shots in the large we highly recommend that you share these magic wand cocktails with 4 or more people. The small Magic Wand contains 10 units of alcohol so if shared with 4 this will be equate to 2.5 units per person. We do ask you to take care of your wand as to replace them could cost you £45 so please be careful.

The Magic Circle is a British organisation dedicated to illusionist magic. Its headquarters are in London, and magicians who wish to join need to have often known two members for a sufficient period of time. These two members then act as referees on the candidate's application form and propose him or her as suitable for membership. Following the receipt and processing of the application, the candidate is invited to an interview, usually at the London headquarters with the examinations secretary. If the candidate proves suitable and sufficiently knowledgeable, a performance exam is scheduled. This takes place in front of judges, and the candidate must demonstrate skills to members in a rehearsed act. The final stage is by vote of members of council, who approve the candidate as a member. There are approximately 1,450 members (including co-owner Mark Bennett) in more than 40 countries. Members must be at least 18.
